Whistling at the Fake

The Crucial Role of Whistleblowers in Countering Disinformation

Project Coordinator: Dr. Costantino Grasso,
Associate Professor (Reader) in Business and Law

Manchester Metropolitan University

“Whistling at the Fake: The Crucial Role of Whistleblowers in Countering Disinformation” is an international research project funded by the NATO’s Public Diplomacy Division.

The project enjoys the participation of renowned experts and academics from several universities including Boston College, Manchester Metropolitan University, University of Tilburg, and the University of Padova.

By exploring the means and mode of spread of mis/disinformation and disinformation, and how this affects individuals’ perceptions and decision-making ability, the project aims at increasing knowledge, awareness, and understanding amongst citizens on methods of identifying false information, and providing a set of practical suggestions individuals may be able to use when countering disinformation, propaganda, and other hostile information activities more broadly. Further, the project considers the role and effectiveness of whistleblowers and knowledgeable insiders as a means of exposing hostile information activities and increasing public resilience to acts of this nature.
